ANOTHER HERO

Lost His Life in Attempting to Save Another's

Henry Burns, 21, was drowned in the canal back of Doherty Bros' foundry in Middlesex street shortly after the noon hour today, while attempting to rescue ten-year-old Frank McCarthy who was stricken with cramps while swimming.

Burns worked in the foundry. He was a moulder's helper and was eating his dinner with other men in the foundry, when the boy's cries for help were heard. Looking down to the canal they saw the lad waving his hands in them.

None of the men could swim and Burns was the first man to make a proposition. He grabbed a coil of rope lying under his arms, approached the canal wall which, at the point in question, is about ten feet high.

He told the other men to lower him and he quick about it. They lowered him and the rope snapped just as the boy rose to the water. Burns sank to rise no more. He went down with a grunting sound and that was the last seen of him.

A board was thrown to the boy and despite intense suffering, he grabbed it and held on until rescued. The lad lives at 11 McIntyre street and he was removed to his home in the ambulance. Henry Burns was unmarried and lived at the family home, corner Central and Hudson streets. He was a young man of sterling qualities, a great favorite with his associates and a loyal friend.

Undertaker O'Donnell was notified of the drowning and his men were grappling for the body at the time of going to press.

Accident Averted at the Salem Depot

GATES UP WHEN TRAIN PASSED

Wrathy Passengers On Lawrence Car

People often wonder why the street railroad companies require conductors to run ahead of the car at grade crossings even in case where the crossings are supplied with gates. Those who were on the car of the New Hampshire electric railway at Salem depot about 9 o'clock are now thoroughly aware of the reason and are eloquent in their praises of the company's vigilance. As the car in question reached the crossing at Salem depot last evening the conductor ran ahead as is his custom and just as he reached the track and looked down a freight train going at a high rate of speed came along and it went by the crossing before the people in the car had time to realize that such a thing as a train was within 10 miles of them. The passengers state that there are gates on the crossing but there was no gateman there to operate them while the conductor is reported to have said that he never knew of any train to pass that point at that hour.

DUAL TELEPHONE QUESTION

May be Settled Tomorrow Night

The first meeting of the new public hall commission will be held at city hall tonight at 8 o'clock. The commission consists of Mayor James B. Casey, Messrs. Henry L. Bourke, Frank K. Stearns, Frank W. Hurd and Col. Charles S. Proctor.

The members of the commission will first be sworn in by City Clerk Girard P. Dabman, after which it will be organized. Owing to the fact that the ordinance does not provide that the mayor shall be chairman, a chairman will have to be elected, though there is little doubt that Mayor Casey will be the presiding officer. After organizing, the commission will map out plans of action.

COMMITTEE ON ACCOUNTS.

The committee on accounts met at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of examining the July 1 bills. The bills which were presented by Mayor Casey were approved by him this morning. While the city council voted a loan of $3000, the celebration cost $2712.51, and the balance of $287.49 will be returned to the general treasury fund.

THE MAYOR'S VETO.

The regular meeting of the board of aldermen will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and while it is expected that the mayor's veto of the franchise of the Merrimack Valley Independent Telephone Co. will be acted upon, there is some talk that the matter will be tabled if enough voice cannot be secured to pass it over the veto.

COMMITTEE ON STREETS.

The committee on streets will meet tonight at 8 o'clock. At the hearing held last Friday the members of the committee were so anxious to enjoy an auto trip that they decided not to hold the business meeting but to postpone it. Therefore the business will be transacted this evening.

STATE POLICE

Engaged on Several Mysterious Cases

BOSTON, July 23. Barely three months since the establishment of the Massachusetts state police has the officers of that department been called upon to investigate a number of cases, such as a series of mysterious deaths among workmen on the work done by local authorities have developed strong evidence of murder, and in widely separated sections of the state and to meet the attention of the state police has been compelled to assign a large proportion of his regular force.

The mysteries now under investigation include the mysterious disappearance of Miss Winona M. Goodell, who has been missing from her home in Hingham for more than three weeks; the probable murder of 12-year-old John Smith, whose body was found recently in the woods near Hingham; the death by poisoning of Charles T. Smith at Westfield last Friday and the supposed murder of Hilda Arthur Hoxie, three years old, at his home at Sandwich yesterday.

Of the four crimes under investigation, only one has resulted in an arrest. Arthur C. Hoxie, of Sandwich, the father of the boy who died in that village, it is alleged from a blow given in a quarrel, has been taken into custody.

Despite the fact that hundreds have aided the state and county authorities in their attempt to find the body of Miss Goodell, the case remains unsolved and the circumstances surrounding her disappearance are a subject of conjecture. While some hold to a theory of murder or suicide others believe it to be a case of elopement.

The police have made greater progress on the murder of young Schaub than in any of the other crimes, and Deputy Chief Neal of the state police is authorized by the statement that an arrest will be made within a few days. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

PRISONERS SHOT

Guatemalans Shot Down the Salvadoreans

SAN SALVADOR, Friday, July 20.—The Salvadoran newspapers indignantly accuse the Guatemalan troops of having killed the Salvadoran prisoners as soon as they were captured. They say that Gen. Cristales, when the armistice was signed, returned to the Guatemalan army all the imprisoned officers and soldiers of Guatemalan rank. They say that the Guatemalans were unable to take a corresponding step because all the prisoners they had captured had been shot. The newspapers of this republic call the attention of the civilized world to this action on the part of the Guatemalan army, claiming that the flagrant conduct of the Guatemalan war on land established that prisoners remain in the hands of the government of the enemy and not in the hands of the soldiers. They say the Guatemalans treated them and they should always be treated humanely.

CHICAGO, July 1.—A complete tie-up of the printing establishments of members of the Chicago typothetæ may follow action which has been taken by the allied printing trades council to assist the printers in their fight for an eight-hour day. The plans are being kept secret, but it is believed one branch of the five international unions affiliated with the council has been appointed with full power to act. It is said the stereotypers, photo-engravers and bookbinders already have

There was a conference between a delegation from the union and Mayor Harrison this morning, at which the mayor advised them not to submit their differences with the company to arbitration. In the event that no agreement was reached in this way the mayor advised them to call a public meeting and state their grievances to the general public before bringing on a strike that would paralyze the transportation facilities of the city.

The agreement was made between the international union and United Typothetae of America and the local union of Chicago, and it was signed with the terms, although it has lived up to its agreement until this time. The refusal of the United Typothetae to sign the agreement has caused the journeymen yesterday to consider the demands of the pressmen for an eight-hour day, and a possible strike. About 30 men have been broken in and there are about 80 regular men in the employ of the local roads who have not become members of the union. The union has addressed a letter to these men to the effect that so long as they are at the head of street railways they will not compel any employee to join a union.

Interesting Items From Mill Centres

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 23.—The trouble among the hosiery manufacturers for shorter working hours during the summer may lead to a general strike and shut down all the hosiery mills. About 100 men have already quit their jobs, and 200 more may be forced to stop work. For several years past demands have been made for an eight-hour day during the months of June, July and August. Conditions at the mills are claimed to be such that a 10-hour day at the mills is almost intolerable. Three months ago a committee representing the hosiery workers presented the demands of the union to the employers, but received no definite answer. At a meeting of the union it was decided to put the eight-hour day into effect by reporting two hours later than usual.

TWIN WOOLLEN MILLS SOLD. Tiffin, Ohio, July 23.—The old Tiffin Woollen Mills, which have been idle for several years, are about to pass into the hands of the Marshall Field and Order House of Chicago. It is said the machinery will be shipped to a mill in Illinois and the building used as a distributing establishment by the Chicago firm. The establishment is now owned by a bank in this city and two banks in Cleveland, which took the property to secure loans.

MILL PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS. PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 23.—An extensive real estate purchase has been concluded at Chiltonville by which Elen D. Jordan has bought the entire property of the Plymouth Woollen and Cotton Co., containing in all about 25 acres, and added it to his large stock farm. The mill, which is a prominent feature of the landscape, and its adjoining buildings and dwellings for its employees, will probably be removed, and an old landscape will pass. The corporation was chartered in 1914. Burnham, Hedge and others organized the company and from that time until 1932 the machinery was in operation, with but few interruptions.

NEXT WEEK—THE BELLE OF NEW YORK.

The past week in the carpet trade has shown that buyers have about come to the conclusion that initial purchases, in the case of the second crop, are the best to cover their requirements. The New York Chamber of Commerce says a few buyers who made early trips to this market have begun to show up here again looking for additional goods, and others are due to follow in the month or so. In addition to the enormous business that has been booked on oriental rugs, the domestic manufacturers have also had one of the largest orders in the history of the industry. Many new and attractive fabrics have been placed on the market for the fall and with few exceptions they have all proven to be good property. In both cases a number of new ideas in washable fabrics have been brought out, and the color is guaranteed not to run in the wash.

As a well known carpet and rug expert expressed it yesterday: "Every body wants rugs, and the first thing they want to look at when they visit a house is the rug line." In addition to this, the competition this season has been very keen, so that the values are unusually low.

SUICIDE

MAN HUNG OVER HIS MOTHER'S HEAD.

NORWICH, Conn., July 22.—Harry Fuller, aged 31, of this village, committed suicide yesterday morning at his home, by hanging himself from the rafters of his house with a rope. An unopened bottle of laudanum was found beside the body.

He had enjoyed excellent health, and the only motive that can be ascribed to his suicide is caused by worry on account of his mother's ill-health. On Wednesday last he accompanied her to a physician, who a specialist stated that she was suffering from an incurable disease.

MINNETONKA, Wis., July 23.—Five persons were killed and more than a score injured, four seriously, yesterday afternoon, by a bolt of lightning that struck the grandstand of the baseball park, where 100 persons had gathered to watch a game between a home team and a nine from Plymouth, Wis. The dead are young men and boys.

When the storm came up and it began to rain all sought shelter in the grandstand. The bolt struck the roof and descended among the crowd, and the five found death in the stand and the other three just outside on the field.

The work of rescue proceeded during a terrible storm, scores of women hurrying to the grounds in search of their sons who were at the game.

RUNAWAY AUTO

BURIED WOMAN IN A MASS OF WRECKAGE.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 23.—A runaway auto, belonging to Rupert Knight, an electrical agent of Boston, buried Mrs. Knight in a mass of wreckage as it plunged into the side of a house here yesterday afternoon. She was badly bruised and completely prostrated by the shock. Her husband, in the car with her, was not injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Manton, who owns the house, were also in the auto, although neither was hurt. The machine was not able to climb a steep hill on College street, and near the summit began to slide backward, beyond the driver's control. Knight swerved it into a gutter in an effort to stop it and it crashed into a house, by the road.

It was overturned and badly wrecked, with Mrs. Knight under it. The car was lifted and she was taken into Dr. Walker's office, where it was found that, though she had no bones broken, she was very badly bruised.

THE LATE RUSSELL SAGE, MILLIONAIRE.

Veteran Financier a Victim Of Old Age

NEW YORK, July 23.—Russell Sage died suddenly yesterday at his country home, "Cedarcroft," at Lawrence, L. I. The immediate cause of death was heart failure resulting from a complication of diseases, incident to old age. The veteran financier would have celebrated his 80th birthday on August 4.

Mr. Sage had been in exceptionally good health since his arrival at his summer home about six months ago. At noon yesterday he was seized with a shivering spell and collapsed rapidly, falling into unconsciousness about two hours before his death, which occurred at 4:30.

There were present at the end Mrs. Sage, her brother, Col. J. S. Schum, Gov. Dr. Robert Leitch, Dr. Theodore S. Janeway of New York, Dr. J. Carl Schumaker, a local physician, and Dr. John F. Munn, for many years Mr. Sage's family physician, who was summoned from New York when the first alarming symptoms were manifested.

The funeral will take place Wednesday at the West Presbyterian church in East 42d street, of which Mr. Sage had been a member for many years. The interment will be in Troy on Thursday.

LOANED MILLIONS

RUSSELL SAGE BEGAN MONEY-GETTING CAREER AS BOY.

Wall street had no more interesting figure than Russell Sage, who through his own exertions attained a high financial position and at the age of 30 remained one of the most active in a life which takes young men to the utmost. Until very recently he was at his office in New York every business day, and his views on commercial matters were as eagerly sought as they were a quarter of a century ago.

He was always a person of good habits and explained his vigor in advanced life by saying that he had always kept early hours, used no tobacco and never took stimulants except in most temperate manner.

Russell Sage was supposed to be worth $10,000,000. For years he had the distinction of being the man with the most ready money at his command in the country. But that was before the era of J. P. Morgan.

He was the greatest money lender in this country. Before he came to America he had more money on call than any man in the United States, and was usually ready to loan $1,000,000 or so at any moment at low interest provided the security was good. Starting as a poor boy, he was a millionaire in the early 60s, when fortunes of that size were rare in America, and since then by careful turning over of his money he made it increase like a snowball rolled down hill.

Sage began money-getting at an early age. He varied it by going into politics in the 50s, and served two terms in congress in 1852 and 1854 as a whig. He took quite an interest in the cause of the poor, and it was through him that William Ward went to the wall. Mr. Grant & Ward went to the wall. Mr. Grant & Ward went to the wall. Mr. Grant & Ward went to the wall.

He uttered a warning to the business world in the midst of the great coal strike of 1902 in the following words:

"Combinations of all great industries are a menace to the government. Such combinations are not only a menace, but are the oppressors of the people. Should an era of combinations ensue the American people will certainly revolt against them, and if they do there will be financial ruin such as history have never dreamed of in the history of the world."

The success attending the combination of some industries has led to the belief that the same success will mark the organization of other great combinations. This will not prove so, and before many years every one will realize it.

Woman Victim of a Criminal Operation For the Death of His Child

NEW YORK, July 23.—Following the secret removal of the body of a pretty young woman, mysteriously known as Miss Annie Schmidt, from the establishment of Mrs. Louis Wagner, a midwife, at 265 East 55th street, shortly after midnight yesterday morning, the police arrested Jacob Joerns and Miss Madeline Hill.

The man is a cigarmaker at 265 East 55th street, and is said to be Mrs. Wagner's husband. Miss Hill was employed in the house.

Detectives are looking for Mrs. Wagner, who is alleged to have performed a criminal operation on the dead woman, and for Dr. Richard Mollenhauer, of 165 East 55th street, who signed a death certificate stating that the woman had died of appendicitis.

The police believe that the name Annie Schmidt is fictitious, Miss Schmidt went to Mrs. Wagner's place about a week ago. She was fashionably dressed, of dark complexion, about 32 years old, and wore expensive jewelry. Shortly before 11 o'clock the neighbors saw Joerns rush from the house and hurry to the undertaking establishment of William Scherrer at 929 2d avenue, where he told Scherrer that he had a "job for him."

Joerns showed a burial certificate issued Saturday night by the board of health and signed by Dr. Mollenhauer. In Miss Schmidt's residence was given as 133 East 55th street. Joerns told the undertaker that he was authorized to arrange for the disposition of the woman's body, and he wanted it cremated as early as possible Monday morning.

Immediately after midnight Scherrer's wagon drove up to Mrs. Wagner's house. The next moment two men hurried down the steps with something that looked like a big bundle. Stepping closer the stranger saw from the shape of the bundle that it contained a body. It was placed in a box in the undertaker's wagon, and the vehicle, with a jiffy was rattling off toward 2d avenue.

Detectives watched Mrs. Wagner's home all yesterday, but she did not return. The police learned that she had a summer home at Sea Cliff, L. I. Neighbors say they saw her leave her place on 55th street, with her two daughters early Saturday night.

Captain Lantry believes that Miss Schmidt was a woman of considerable wealth. At the 55th street address, which Joerns furnished, no one had ever heard of her. Miss Hill, who is said to be a sister of Mrs. Wagner, has been living at 24 West 53d street.

DRIVEN OUT

LEPER WAS ORDERED TO LEAVE PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—George Rossett, the leper who is trying to reach New York in a Baltimore & Ohio railroad freight car, arrived in this city yesterday, and last night the Philadelphia health authorities ordered the railroad company to return him to Elkins, W. Va., from which place he came.

The man is now traveling south in a box car attached to a freight train. A small crowd gathered about the car when it arrived here and a detail of police was sent for and the car was placed under guard. During the afternoon the bureau of health and charities learned of the presence of the leper. After a conference the health officers decided that the railroad company must remove Rossett from the city, and suggested that he be returned over the same route he came.

Accordingly the box car was attached to a freight train that was leaving made up in the yards and last night it started south. The first scheduled stop of the train is Baltimore. Before the train left, the health authorities tacked on the car large quadrangular placards bearing the words, "Leper."

Rossett is 22 years old, and says he came to this country four years ago with his wife. Until last Wednesday he lived at Elkins, W. Va.

WORCESTER ROAD RACE. One of the biggest road races of the year and one that will doubtless attract riders from all parts of the country, is that which is being projected by the bicycle dealers of Worcester, Mass. The race will be a 25-mile handicap, and will be run on Saturday, July 28. The truth of the assertion that the race at Worcester will be one of the biggest of the year is borne out by the value of the prizes that have been hung up; their total value reaches $600.

To date three times and 20 place prizes have been listed and more are being added each day, so that it is reasonably certain that every man, woman or child will come in for a prize. Another feature that doubtless will attract visitors is that J. W. Grady, the Hudson agent, has agreed to present the first rider finisher from each state a Blauvelt racing sweater, valued at five dollars.

As the prize arrangement stands two $50 Hudson bicycles head the list of place prizes, and Yale and Columbia bicycles and a gold watch are the chief prizes of riders making the best times. In addition to these, there are eight pairs of tires to be given away to finishers, besides the assorted lot of all sorts of everything that appeals to the racing cyclist.

Brooks Stevens of this city was a pall bearer Friday at the funeral of Mrs. Catherine Stevens at North Andover.

NIGHT EDITION

OVER 1000 ARRESTS

Of Workmen Made Last Night in St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, July 23.—The government's midnight coup d'état is already having the effect of uniting all the discordant elements of the opposition and it requires little experience to see that an era of repression will drive liberal and constitutional alike to support the most desperate measure. It is already clear that resistance will be made. According to the latest advices from Viborg, the members of parliament who fled to Finland intend to defy their sovereign. They are virtually refusing to recognize the decree of dissolution, a three hour session in the dining room of Hotel Belvedere being held last night under the presidency of M. Mourmoutou, all the formalities of a regular session being observed. Prof. Mikuloff and other members of the central committee of the constitutional democrats were carefully excluded from participation. The leaders of all groups seemed to be momentarily trying to bank their political differences and were solely moved by a determination to present a solid front to the nation and government in the crisis. Only about 20 members, however, were present, the Poles instead of going in a body, sending delegates. General fear is expressed by the liberals here that the military today will surround and capture the members at Viborg on the ground that they constitute an illegal and revolutionary assembly under the authority given to Governor General Gerhard of Finland, a week ago to close and arrest revolutionary congresses. It is quite likely that this authority was conferred in anticipation of the present emergency.

Although minor rioting continued in the outskirts throughout the night the city is superficially quiet this morning, but ominous forebodings of a coming storm are apparent on every hand. A correspondent of the Associated Press made a tour of the city early this morning. At every block he encountered reinforcements of police, armed groups on corners and met half a dozen squads of gendarmes with drawn swords, according to little bands of arrested persons to prison. During the night over a thousand arrests of workmen, agitators and revolutionary suspects were made. The railroad leading out of the city have been placed under martial law and the gendarmes search the passengers and baggage on all trains for arms and political documents. Systematic military persecutions for political agitators and especially members of the proletariat order are in full swing.

Not only the Tauride palace but the gates of the Park leading to it are closed and the surrounding streets are alive with gendarmes and secret police. In the court yard of a neighboring barracks of the guard regiments the correspondent saw two companies drawn up in marching order and shortly afterwards he met a travel-stained detachment of gray cuirassiers galloping in from Krasnoyarsk camp. With the regular garrison, there are now more than 20,000 troops massed in the city, including 40 battalions of infantry, practically the entire cavalry of the guard, a division of infantry of the guard, a field battery and four companies of machine guns.

Upon all the dead walls are posted proclamations of the prefect of police prohibiting meetings without permission; prohibiting the collection of money for illegal purposes, the distribution of proclamations, the calling of flags and singing in the streets. The prefect of police placed police officers in the newspaper offices last night to see that they did not transgress the limits of the law, under threat of confiscation of their issues. Accounts for the comparative mildness of the press censorship this morning. Even so the edition of Rech was seized after it left the press.

The Rech terms the dissolution of parliament incredible in view of the events of the past year, and says: "It is true that a new parliament has been summoned, but in the present temper of the population it is meaningless. The old methods of repression can only result in untold horror. Parliament has not set in vain. It has strengthened the cause of liberty, and proved to Europe that the Russians are not barbarians, but are fitted for self-government."

The Novoye Vremya, while expressing no regret at the dissolution of parliament, says that whatever mistakes

The first meeting of the new public hall commission will be held at city hall tonight at 8 o'clock. The commission consists of Mayor James R. Casey, Messrs. Henry L. Bourke, Frank K. Stearns, Frank W. Hurd and Col. Charles S. Proctor.

The members of the commission will first be sworn in by city clerk Edward J. Padman, after which it will be organized. Owing to the fact that the ordinance does not provide that the mayor shall be chairman, a chairman will have to be elected, though there is little doubt that Mayor Casey will be the presiding officer. After organizing, the commission will map out plans of action.

The committee on accounts met at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of considering the July bills. The bills which were presented by Mayor Casey were approved by him this morning. MRS. HARTJE

CALLED TO DENY THE HOTEL LINCOLN INCIDENT.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 23.—The defense in the Hartje divorce case concluded its side today and the testimony in rebuttal was begun.

Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, the defendant, was called as the closing witness that she might deny the Hotel Lincoln incident referred to in the plaintiff's bill of charges. Before she could testify counsel for the plaintiff objected and was sustained by Judge Fraser who said there was no evidence to show that the respondent had gone to the hotel. The testimony in rebuttal was then begun. Dr. Peiffer Fraser of Philadelphia was the first witness. He attacked the "Susie Warner letter" as a handwriting expert and testified that in his opinion the letter was written by the same hand as the other six "standards" which Mrs. Hartje admitted on the stand was in her handwriting.

Henry Burns, 21, was drowned in the canal back of Deberry Bros' foundry in Middlesex street shortly after the noon hour today, while attempting to rescue ten-year-old Frank McCarthy who was stricken with cramps while swimming. Burns worked in the foundry. He was a moulder's helper and was eating his dinner with other men in the foundry, when the boy's cry for help was heard. Looking down to the canal they saw the lad waving his hands to them.

None of the men could swim and Burns was the first man to make a proposition. He grabbed a coil of rope tying it under his arms, approached the canal wall which, at the point in question, is about ten feet high.

He told the other men to lower him

Mr. Man

That buys the coal, did it ever occur to you, that to be a successful coalman, in the full sense of the word, you must have practical experience? Let us understand one another. The money that started me, in the coal business, I earned myself, working, shoveling, and learning coal right here in your own city; today my trade yards and facilities for handling coal are second to none in this city. I know what coal is, and what coal is not; I know what to buy, and what not to buy; that means my customers do not have to suffer for my mistakes. I do not tell my men, go and do it; I say, come and do it; that means you hire your own foreman in place of the coal dealer hiring him for you. When you are about to place your coal order, think this matter over.

Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention.

MAYOR HAS RIGHT

To Take Action On Telephone Franchise

Alderman Otto Allen, who has been in the public eye for the past several months, owing to his enthusiasm over the franchise of the Merrimack Valley Independent Telephone Co., made the statement that he intended to test the mayor's readiness relative to the granting of a franchise, claiming that the mayor has no right to take action on the matter seeing that there was no expenditure of money by the city involved.

He said that he intended asking the opinion of the city solicitor, but up to the time of going to press this afternoon he had not done so and said he thought he would look into the law himself.

Section 16, of the city charter however, gives the mayor the right to act on the franchise, the section in question being as follows:

"Every act of the city council, or other branch thereof, shall be by ordinance, order, resolution or vote. Every ordinance, order, resolution or vote, to which the concurrence of the board of aldermen and of the common council may be necessary, and every order or vote of either branch, involving the expenditure of money, or affecting the public interests, shall be presented to the mayor, if he approve thereof, he shall sign the same; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, and said branch shall proceed to reconsider said ordinance, order, resolution, or vote; and if after such reconsideration (two-thirds of the whole of said branch) notwithstanding such objections, vote to pass the same, it shall, together with the objections, be sent to the other branch of the city council (if it originally required concurrent action), where it shall also be reconsidered, and if it be also approved (two-thirds of the whole of said branch), it shall be in force; but in all cases the vote shall be determined by yeas and nays. If any such ordinance, order, resolution, or vote shall not be returned by the mayor to the clerk of the branch in which it originated within ten days after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be in force; provided, that if any ordinance, order, resolution, or vote embraces distinct subjects, the mayor may approve the provisions relating to one or more of the subjects and not approve of the others, and so much of said ordinance, order, resolution or vote as the mayor may not approve shall be reconsidered as above provided."
